TransMeridian Airlines Begins Nonstop Service to Las Vegas and Orlando

OKLAHOMA CITY – Beginning Wednesday, February 11, low-fare carrier TransMeridian Airlines will launch nonstop service from Oklahoma City to Las Vegas, NV and Orlando Sanford, FL. The service will operate from Will Rogers World Airport two days a week.

“Las Vegas and Orlando are two popular destinations for Oklahoma City travelers,” says airport director Luther E. Trent. “The new service provided by TransMeridian offers more convenient and affordable options for the traveling public. It is an excellent addition to air service in our market.”

TransMeridian made the decision to begin service here when it determined that Las Vegas and Orlando were two underserved cities in the Oklahoma City market. The hope is to stimulate the markets and eventually add additional flights. The initial schedule will include one flight to Las Vegas and one flight to Orlando Sanford every Wednesday and Saturday.

The daily flights are open for sale through www.IFLYTMA.com. Tickets can also be purchased by calling 1-866-I-FLY-TMA or by contacting a professional travel agent.
